...Whatever your individual needs, Instarmac have got it covered!

Instarmac, manufacturers of high performance cement, concrete and bitumen systems, have been providing training and site support along with product demonstrations for over 30 years. Their Training & Site Support Department is probably at their busiest, providing customers with the highest level of technical advice, both on- and off-site.

Instarmac believe that service does not begin and end with an order. Technical support, practical on-site training, material innovation and in-house logistics are all at the heart of their overall service package - a commitment to deliver high specification, rapid strength, fast-track products and systems to ensure high standards of quality and resilience.

The purpose designed outside skills area and indoor training facilities are specially developed for customer use. An external demo area is ideal for the Ultracrete highways maintenance materials and Ultrascap mortar paving system, whilst an interior high-spec training room gives the perfect environment for utilising the commercial flooring and tiling products. This modern training centre offers customers and specifiers the opportunity to try products prior to contract, ensuring maximum confidence in use and ultimately delivering best value to the client.

If attending training is easier on location, Instarmac's Site Support Team are always available for one-to-one dedicated assistance tailored to suit your needs. They can offer help with problem-solving, practical use and product performance, ensuring you have the ability to experience their products at your convenience and guarantee confident application.
